HATS.—We are told by Shakspere, "uneasy lies the head which wears a crown." How different is the case with that head which wears one of KNOX's Castors: Ease, grace and fashion are contrived in these; inasmuch that the man who carries one of KNOX's Hats on his head may be known at a distance by his graceful bearing and case of wearing; and, indeed, to put one KNOX's Hats on the outside of your head, you hear witness that you have a great deal in the inside of it. THE GENIN HAT.—One of the leading of merits of Genin's Spring style for 1851, is the absence of all exaggeration in its conformation. The conical shape is just sufficiently perceptible without being a too prominent feature, and all the details seem to assimilate with each other so as to render the general design a model of classical proportion and perfect symmetry. Such is the GENIN four dollar bat for this season, speaking of it as a work of art.

NEW-YORK TRIBUNE.

NEW-YORK, TUESDAY, APRIL 8.

For Europe. The next number of The Tribune for European circulation, will be issued THIS MORNING, at 9 o'clock. It will contain all the latest news up to the time of going to press. The Canada sails from Boston To-Morrow, at 12 o'clock.

California.

By the arrival of the Georgia at this port last evening, we have advices from San Francisco to the 5th of March, twenty days later than those previously received. -The news from our sister State on the Pacific will be read with interest, and we regret to believe that it will give many an unfavorable impression of the people of California. In Sacramento City there has been a painful tragedy enacted. A desperado, engaged in a brawl, wantonly took the life of an inoffensive by stander, was arrested, tried by a People's Jury under the Lynch Code, and immediately hung. A simil scene was near being enacted in San Francisco. There, also, a People's Jury tried a person accused of an attempt to commit murder, but luckily three of the Jury were possessed of consciences, and resisted the demands of the populace. Their firm. ness saved the life of the culprit, and he was eventually banded over to the officers of justice, to be legally tried. These occurrences will prove a stigma upon the heretofore fair fame of the State, and one which she cannot easily efface. Unlike other new countries, California has all the appliances and facilities of the older States, and there is, therefore, no shadow of necessity to justify these outrages.

-It will be seen that the Legislature has failed to elect a Senator in the place of Col. Frémont. After one hundred and forty-four ballots, the Joint Convention in effect adjourned sine die.

-Though we cannot present any remarkable discoveries of gold, yet the general tenor of the news from the interior is decidedly favorable to the miners. The Quartz Mines are being worked with much success, and the stories heretofore published of the richness of the placers at Trinidad Bay are corroborated by this arrival. Miners were going to the Gold Bluff in great numbers.

Connecticut Election.

TRIBUNE OFFICE, Tuesday, 1 A. M. The returns thus far received from Connecticut wear an unpromising aspect, but are not absolutely decisive of the political character of the State. In the cities of Bridgeport, New-Haven, &c., where 'Union' demonstrations were made and 'Union' Committees appointed, the Whigs have suffered, as we expected. This machinery has elected Colin M. Ingersoll (Opposition) to Congress from the New-Haven and Middlesex District by a majority first reported at 400, but a later dispatch reduces it to 100, We presume there is no doubt of his success, nor of its cause. On the other hand, Chauncey F. Cleveland, (Opposition,) is reëlected in the New-London and Windham District by the Abelition vote, which went for him with unanimity and enthusiasm. There never was a party which knew how to make out of both sides of a cross-question like the Loco-Foco.

In the other two districts (Holtpark and Tolland and Fairfield and Litchfield,) the issue is not yet known, but we hope for the success of the Whig candidate in each. Bridgeport (usually Whig) gives 139 Opposition majority. Hartford 95 (Rum) do. for Governor, though Whig on the other Leander Parmelee, Whig Sheriff, is reelected in New-Haven Co. The Sheriff of Hartford Co. is in doubt. Our Telegraphic dispatch from Bridgeport says " P. F. Barnum (Opp.) is elected Sheriff of Fairfield County-probably 2 to 300 majority."-We wait for fuller returns before believing it .- New-London County has probably chosen John W. Horton (Opp.) its Sheriff.

-The Legislature will depend on the result of to-day's elections, an extraordinary number of towns having failed to effect a choice yesterday. Let the Whigs but do their duty to-day, and they will secure a U. S. Senator for six years with the State officers.

-We subjoin the reported majorities for Governor, comparing them with the majorities last year:

Last year Seymour (Opp.) had 813 plurality, but lacked over 2,000 of a majority. There was no choice of Governor nor any other State Officer then, and pretty certainly is none now. We apprehend that Seymour has a plurality.

Five towns in Fairfield County which gave 96 votes for the Free Soil State Ticket last year give but 84 now. Their whole vote last year was 2,877. We have no more of their vote this year.

-Our Telegraphic Dispatches are so confused and contradictory that we have chosen to sift them as well as we could, instead of giving them in the jumbled form in which they reached us. They do not state how many Representatives are chosen from most of the towns, and we have added from memory the number to which the towns given are entitled, and have doubtless made some mistakes. One dispatch reports 4 members gained and lost by each party in Hartford County; another reports 10 net gain to the Opposition in twenty towns of other Counties, including New-London, from which we have no definite returns.

The Whig Members are chosen in Hartford by majorities of 17 and 5 respectively. In the IId Senate District, Mr. Plummer has 40 majority. The IIId Senate District is in doubt. It was against us last year by two or three votes.

The Telegraph says the chances for Sheriff of Hartford County are in favor of Francis W. Cowles, Opp.

Hon. DANIEL WEBSTER spent Sunday and yesterday very quietly in our City, and will leave to-day for Boston and Marshfield. His health has improved since he left Washington, and we trust it will soon be entirely restored.

Waterbury

Guilford 2 Meriden 2

-Mr. Webster, it is said, is an aspirant for the next Presidency, if not in his own view, certainly in that of his many warm admirers. Well: we are not among those admirers, but we know no other champion of the Fugitive Slave Law who would fill the station with greater ability or dignity. And, as we are quite unlikely to do anything further in aid of his election, we will venture to proffer the Webster party, large or small, a single suggestion, viz: If you want to make the great New-Englander the next President, drop the 'Union and Safety' business as soon as you gracefully can, and organize a good working Central Committee with branches, supply them with funds, and set half a dozen steam presses to printing his Correspondence with Chevalier Hulsemann, in English, German, French, Spanish, &c., appending to it the attacks which it has elicited from Brownson's Review, the Freeman's Journal, &c. Don't answer one of them-Mr. Webster's arguments will take care of themselves before a Republican tribunal. If the People were to vote for or against the author of the Letter to Hulsemann, he would inevitably be elected

The Fugitive Slave Case-Decision of the Court on the Petition for a Habens Corpus. Boston, Monday, April 7. In the Supreme Court, this afternoon, Chief Justice Shaw delivered an opinion on the petition of the Fugitive. Thomas Sims, for a Habeas Corpus, on the ground of unconstitutionality of the law. He alinded to ground of unconstitutionality of the law. He alinded to the delicacy of the question, containing as it did, an inquiry into the constitutionality of a law passed by the Representatives of the whole Confederacy—that it was contended that the law of both State and Nation should go on in harmony together. He then went into a history of the adoption of the Constitution the law of 1730 has been in operation over 50 years, and under it cases have come up before the United States and State Courts, and the Court are not awars that if was over Called in question in regard to constitution, in regard of illegality of warrants issued by a Commissioner—be not being a Judge in the eye of the Constitution. The Court held that under the law of 1730 the authority of remanding had been vested in certain State officers, Justices of the Peace, &c., but certain States had passed laws forbidding their officials to exercise the powers granted to them under the Fugitive Stave Act, and therefore under the new law power was granted to certain specified persons to act under it—the law of 1850.

The Court said it stood on the same grounds as that of 1758. It does not suspend the writ of habeas corpus, or any privilege they had under the old law. In conclusion, any privilege they had under the old law. In conclusion,

State and Nation, each in its proper sphere, has ever been regarded as easer tiel to the peace and prosperity of all the United States. The Court did not deny that a case might come up under the Fugitive Slave Act which would cause them to issue a writ of babeas corpus, but in the present case it was the unanimous opinion of the Court that the writ of habeas corpus cannot be granted after this decision. The bearing before Commissioner Curtis was recommenced, and Mr Bantoni argued at great length against the constitutionality of the law, similar to his plea at Lynn. Swords and other accourements, sufficient to arm 100 police officers, have been forwarded from the Navy Yard and placed in the City Marshal's office in case the figitive is remanded, when these officers will guard him to the cars on his return.

Mr. Townsend moved to recommit the bill, with instructions to strike out the words "Bank, Banking Association," or "Individual Banker," in the second section, and insert the word "Persons." Mr. T. opposed the first section, which provides that no note shall be presented at the counter of the Bank Issaing it, by any other Bank, without having first presented it at the agency of the issuing bank, and submitting to a discount of per cent. Mr. T. convended that if was unjust to adopt one mode for the government of individuals, and another for Corporations. He thought such course was wrong, erroneous in principle, and that if sanctioned in this House, he hoped it would be rejected in the Senate, and if passed there could be vetoed by the Executive. For the proposed Bank of the Metropolis and the full particular of the description to the counter for the Bank of the Metropoli

He trusted they would fail, and that this motion to recommit would not prevail.

Mr. Townskind replied to the positions of Mr. U. He was willing to go all reasonable lengths in defeating the institutions of the country from unwarrantable attacks—was in favor of suspending those provisions of the law which inflicted extraordinary penalties and excessive costs of protest, but this might interfere with contract expressed on the face of each note, that the Bank would pay at its counter the full face of each note and compelling the holder to submit to the reduction of † per cent. This discrimination he held to be unjust and inexpedient, and not warranted by anything which had transpired in the organization of the Institution, to which reference had been made. The motion to re-commit was further advocated by Measrs Varnum and A. A. Thompson—opposed by Measrs. Ferris and Horron.

Messrs Varnum and A. A. Thompson—opposed by Messrs. Ferris and Horton
Mr. Varnum moved another amendment, instructing the Committee to repeal all laws compelling the banks to redeem in two places. Lost
